A Letter From Our President

At the NBDA we strive daily to set standards for excellence, celebrating the diversity of the IB⁵, and providing a central voice that delivers constant content to lead the Speciality Bicycle Retailer to long term profitability.

Shops showcasing the NBDA logo symbolize membership in an industry association that ensures to ensure the retailer aligns with core values of excellence.

These values are defined as:

- Integrity: We conduct our business ethically. We are trustworthy in our intentions and our actions.
- Collaborative and Inclusive: We actively seek to work in partnership with others to grow bicycling and a healthy bicycle industry.
- Celebrate Excellence: We work to elevate others and everything that serves the bike industry and riders in excellence.
- Responsible and Responsive: We listen to each other, our members, and others in the Bike Industry. We know it is up to us to be and make the changes that are necessary. We act responsibly, for sustainability and growth for all.
- Embrace entrepreneurial spirit: We choose to welcome new ideas and new ways of doing business, believing that as the world of retail evolves, we must as well.

2023 was an  challenging year for the industry and a transformative year for the NBDA. We doubled down on providing our membership base the foundational tools it needs to run  profitable business. We formed important partnerships with suppliers and associations all dedicated to driving best practices and advocating for the voice of the speciality retailer. We took a leading role in advocating for safe products and industry top standards, to ensure that the growth of important categories continues.

While we went back to basics with our education and content to ensure that our members had the tools needed to succeed, the year was anything but basic. We expanded our P2 Program and Workshop schedule, allowing us to work directly with our members to ensure success. We opened up financials and challenged hypothesis made of profitability.

A highlight of the year was our 2023 Retailer Summit, in which we showcased the 2 dynamic days of presentations focused to unite retailers and suppliers in face-to-face conversations focused on key areas impacting retailers today.

In this report, you will see some of the tremendous work the NBDA team and our membership has done this year. We hope you see the dynamic growth of the NBDA, and our commitment to Speciality retailers and the industry at large.

Thank you for your support, membership and inclusive spirit. Being a retailer can be incredibly rewarding, but it's not easy. We got this!

In 2022 We Formed NBDA Connects

A platform meant to be a catalyst to ensure you meet the right people who know the bicycle industry, respect your business, and want to help you grow both personally and professionally.

In 2023, we expanded on this platform to include advocacy work in e mobility, supplier best practices and youth programming. We are thrilled to have this platform and the databases and forums within to help our members make connections, form alliances and build transparency and trust in bigger picture conversations.

We are focused on continuous improvement and connection because we believe that is truly best for our businesses and our industry community.

Thought Provoking Presentations & Panel Discussions

The National Bicycle Dealers Association (NBDA) stands as the trailblazer in curating thought-provoking presentations and seminars at key industry events like CABDA and the Retailer Summit. With a keen focus on uniting experts and retailers, these sessions are meticulously designed to delve into topics that directly impact retailer profitability.

By bringing together industry visionaries and seasoned retailers, the NBDA fosters an environment of collaborative learning and strategic insight-sharing. These presentations go beyond the conventional, offering practical strategies, market insights, and innovative approaches that empower retailers to thrive in a dynamic cycling landscape.

The NBDA's commitment to thought leadership ensures that attendees leave these events not only inspired but armed with the knowledge and tools needed to elevate their businesses and contribute to the continued growth and success of the cycling industry.
